Upgraded computer experience to be available at library

Kerrville, Texas (Feb. 9, 2021) –The Butt-Holdsworth Memorial Library is excited to share that upon re-opening, patrons will have an upgraded computer experience. In collaboration with the City of Kerrville's technology department, the library has upgraded its computer infrastructure, including its desktops. The upgraded computers have the latest Windows 10 operating system and upgraded versions of Office, Adobe Reader and other applications.

The library has also doubled the memory and processing speed of the computers, so patrons are in for a dynamic experience.

As a reminder, the library will be re-opening to the public on Monday, Feb. 15 at 10 a.m. Masks will be required and social distancing measures will be in place.

For more information, contact the library reference desk at (830) 258-1274, or visit the library webpage at www.bhmlibrary.org.
