City of Kerrville recognized as U.S. Best-in-Class Employer

Kerrville (April 10, 2024) – The City of Kerrville participated in Gallagher's 2023 U.S. Benefits Strategy & Benchmarking Survey and was identified as an organization that excelled in implementing successful strategies for managing people and programs. Kerrville was recognized for its comprehensive framework for strategically investing in benefits, compensation and employee communication to support the health, financial security and career growth of its employees at a sustainable cost structure.

Designations like Gallagher's Best-in-Class Employer help current and potential employees understand and appreciate an organization's workplace culture and people strategy - important differentiators as employers compete for talent in today's labor market.

"Being recognized as a 2023 Best-in-Class employer by Gallagher is a testament to our unwavering commitment to our team," Assistant City Manager Kim Meismer said. "Through the provision of exceptional cost-effective benefits, maintaining competitive compensation, and fostering transparent communication, we empower our employees to thrive. Their success fuels ours, making this recognition not just an achievement but a shared celebration of our dedication to excellence in every aspect of our organization."
