Library to host GIS Day on Friday, Nov. 22

Kerrville, Texas (Nov. 15, 2024) – The City of Kerrville is excited to announce a special Geographic Information Systems (GIS) Day event for the public, to be held at the Butt-Holdsworth Memorial Library on Friday, Nov. 22 from 4-6 p.m. This engaging and educational event is designed to introduce the community to the fascinating world of GIS and demonstrate its importance in our daily lives.

Event Highlights

- Interactive Activities for Kids: Fun and educational activities designed to inspire the next generation of GIS enthusiasts.
- What is GIS? Learn the basics of GIS technology and its diverse applications.

- Kerrville's Use of GIS: Discover how our city leverages GIS for urban planning, public works, and more.
- GIS for Citizens: Explore the various GIS resources available to the public.

GIS Day is an international event that showcases the real-world applications of GIS technology. Our event aims to provide a comprehensive overview of GIS, making it accessible and understandable for all ages. Whether you are a student, professional, or simply interested in understanding the workings of GIS, this event is designed to be both informative and engaging.

We encourage everyone to attend and take advantage of this unique opportunity to learn about the power of GIS.

For more information, please contact the GIS Coordinator at (830) 258-1499 or visit our website at <https://gisportal-kerrvilletx.hub.arcgis.com/pages/gis-day>.
