Zohlen, Boyle Visit With Mayor's Youth Advisory Council

Kerrville, Texas (Jan. 12, 2018) – Paul Zohlen of the Hill Country Chapter of the Military Order of World Wars, and Ashlea Boyle of the City of Kerrville's Parks and Recreation Department were the guest speakers at the Jan. 11 meeting of the Mayor's Youth Advisory Council.

Zohlen talked about his military experiences and the positive impact a career in the service can have, and Boyle spoke about the many city activities the Parks and Recreation Department is involved in and the wide variety of volunteer opportunities available through the department.

The Mayor's Youth Advisory Council extends a heartfelt "Thank You" to both Zohlen and Boyle for taking the time to visit with them.

The Mayor's Youth Advisory Council was established in 2016 and encourages young people in Kerr County to take an active interest in community affairs and issues. The Council is made up of 15 board members from grades 9-12 in Kerr County and provides an overview of the many local opportunities available for young people through public service. Council members are encouraged to make a positive community impact by actively participating in various city-sponsored activities and events.
