Library to Host Gardening 101 Series

Kerrville, Texas (Jan. 8, 2019) – Have you always wanted to learn more about plants and planting techniques for our area? Come join us Saturday, Jan. 12 starting at 10 a.m. in the Butt-Holdsworth Memorial Library meeting room at 505 Water St. for the first in a series of gardening programs. Kim Courtright, a Master Gardener with the Hill Country Master Gardeners program, will inform us about the timing for planting, what to plant and how much, and the different containers and beds you can use for your personal garden.

The Gardening 101 series will be held on the second Saturday of each month through July, with each one-hour program touching upon different gardening topics for our area. Please attend any or all programs that interest you. This free program is open to the public and no registration is required.

For more information concerning the programs and any other questions, please contact the library reference desk at 830-258-1274.
