Gardening 101 at the library: All about alliums

Kerrville, Texas (Oct. 7, 2019) – Have you always wanted to learn more about plants and planting techniques for our area? Come join us Saturday, Oct. 12 at 10:30 a.m. in the Butt-Holdsworth Memorial Library meeting room, located at 505 Water St., for the next in a series of gardening programs. Connie Townsend, a Master Gardener through the Hill Country Master Gardeners program, will discuss alliums – onions, garlics, and leeks. Townsend will cover the best varieties for our area, planting alliums, and how to care for them. Informational handouts will be available.

The Gardening 101 series is a one-hour program touching upon different gardening topics for our area. This program is open to the public and no registration is required. For more information concerning the programs and any other questions, please contact the library reference desk at (830) 258-1274.
